EIP

EIP attends Hardware Pioneers Max event

EIP partner and semiconductor expert Andrew Thompson attended Hardware Pioneers Max this week. At the one-day event Andrew had the opportunity to meet pioneering technical leaders, product managers, engineers and entrepreneurs who are building the next generation of IoT products.

Hardware Pioneers showcases the newest products and services to design, build, connect and manage IoT devices, and the latest hardware and software technologies to implement in IoT devices.

During the day Andrew attended sessions on security in IoT products and using cloud services to manage and process data.

Read more about the event here.